FILTER BEDS POSSIBLE

They Would Not Cost Very Much Money.

THE CITY MUST HAVE THEM

It is Only a Question of Time Until They Are Demanded, and Engineer Fickes Believes the Island is the Very Spot For a Good System.

"I don't know how long it will be, but it is only a matter of time until every city in the Ohio valley must be provided with a system of filtration or get its water supply from some source other than the river."

The speaker was E. S. Fickes, the engineer who has been in the city for several months superintending the construction of the bridge. Mr. Fickes has had experience in the construction of water supply plants, and has paid particular attention to filtration, knowing that the rapidly increasing population of the country will in the no distant future render necessary some change in the system now so generally used. He is a native of Steubenville, and his observations cannot but be read with interest by those people who rebel against drinking liquid mud and the sewage of Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

"Filter beds, such as would be best for the Ohio valley, would not cost a great deal," continued the engineer. "The principle is to fill an excavation with broken stone, graduated from the larger stone at the bottom to the smaller on top. This is covered with fine sand for about two and one-half feet, and under the whole is a complete system of drainage. That is the filter proper. A reservoir large enough to contain the result of at least 24 hours' filtration is of course a necessity, and the plant proper is complete."

"The water could be pumped from the river, and spread over the beds. The water contains a large number of bacteria, which, when brought in contact with the sand, forms what experts are pleased to style a jelly. This is very thin, but it serves to keep the bacteria of the water pumped afterward from getting into the drains, and answers the purpose of the ideal filter. It is customary to switch this first water into a drain that would carry it again to the river, thus leaving that in the reservoir comparatively free from dangerous germs. The beds must be cleaned in some places every few days, but here in the valley every two weeks would be sufficient, even when the river is muddiest. Beds are cleaned where sand is abundant by removing about an inch from the surface, and replacing it with fresh sand. Where the filter is any distance from the base of supply it has been found cheaper to wash the sand and again add it to the filter. Two beds make the minimum number, one to be in use while the other is being cleaned."

"East Liverpool is especially fortunate in having Babb's island so close to its pumping station, for the island makes an ideal location for filter beds. It is not far from the machinery, and, I hear, is seldom covered in time of flood, although this would not much matter, since filter beds can be submerged 48 hours and not suffer in consequence, if you have storage to last until the water falls. An electric pump and one man could easily bring the water from the river to the filters, and the waste would pass into the river, while the filtered fluid would go into the cistern. A line from this last to the pumping station on the Ohio side would not be expensive, since the bottom is good, and there is no quicksand to break the pipe and cause damage and delay. The deposit of sand is good, and right to the city's hand, thus necessitating no constant outlay for haulage. The beds could, I believe, be built for a cost not to exceed $30,000, and the other necessary expenses would not be over $20,000 additional, giving the city a complete system of filtration for a comparatively small outlay."

"Another matter to be considered deals with the slackwatering of the river. Judging from the interest manifested in the movement and the influence being brought to bear upon congress, it will not be long until the Ohio is little more than a big canal. Dams will make it navigable throughout the year, and your city must filter the water or look elsewhere for its supply. It cannot use water so stagnant as that of a slack-watered stream. That is but one indication that filtration beds will be built some day."

"Filters of this sort have been in use in Europe for 15 years, and have proved an unqualified success. The water of the Thames is drained from a densely populated region, and is nothing more than diluted sewage, yet a part of London uses it after it has been filtered in this way, and in London there is a smaller percentage of typhoid than you will find in most American towns. Complete tests in Germany have shown the system to be impervious to cholera germs, and in one instance at least the people of a suburb, using filtered water, were free from the plague, when they were dying in the city, where the water was not filtered, by the hundred. That city was Hamburg, and the suburb Altoona. Extensive experiments have been carried out at Lawrence, Mass., and the same result obtained. The city was scourged with typhoid before the filter beds were built, but they have little of it now. Other cities in the east are introducing it, and meeting with similar encouragement. With the natural advantages East Liverpool has it certainly seems anything but the best of judgment to drink this river water, filthy and dangerous, as it is pumped from the stream."

The words of Mr. Fickes will appeal strongly to those people who have seen time after time the wretched substitute for water dispensed by the city department.

TELL IT. TELL IT.

Tell the Story of Prosperity, Through Increased Confidence.

"Tell the story, men—tell it to the people through your columns. Don't let your modesty stand in the way of letting your readers know that you are having a full share of the prosperity which restored confidence has brought to our nation and to our city of East Liverpool. Tell the story, by all means, and tell it upon your first page."

We deem the above, by a leading business man of this city, as good advice, and obey his instructions. We are glad and happy to announce to our readers, and the public in general, that the NEWS REVIEW is having its full share of business prosperity and sunshine. The circulation is constantly increasing. The work in the job department is on the rush. It has been found absolutely necessary to increase the working force. New and valuable machinery is being added, increasing the capacity. New job type, wood and metal, embracing the best materials manufactured, have been added to the already splendid outfit. The manager takes just pride in his plant, and can assure merchants, business men and manufacturers that he can and will furnish them anything in the line of printing, from common dodgers or hand bills, to the very finest work turned out by artists in the craft, at prices sure to win favor and commendation. The manager returns warm thanks to a generous public, and will aim to look to the best interests of East Liverpool and her citizens. Yes, we are very glad, from every standpoint, that prosperity is once more a visitor to our bustling, busy city, and our prayer is that it may long remain.

TALKED REFORM.

McKinley Club Members Heard Good Speeches.

There was a good attendance at the McKinley club last evening to hear the subject of "Reform of Civil Service Reform" discussed. The opening address was made by Hon. A. H. McCoy, who spoke for 35 minutes on the subject, and made many telling points. He was followed by D. J. Smith in a short talk, and addresses were then made by a number of other members. At the close of the discussion a committee were appointed to form resolutions expressing the sentiment of the club as being in favor of a decided reform and to present them at the next meeting. A number of speakers were appointed for the next meeting when the subject "Immigration" will be discussed.

HALSTEAD OR WATERSON

Will Lecture for the Benefit of the Public Library.

The library directors met last evening for the purpose of talking finance and arranging for a benefit for the library. An agent representing a lecture bureau was present. It was decided to have Henry Waterson talk on Abraham Lincoln, or Murat Halstead lecture on Cuba. The gentlemen are masters of their respective subjects, Mr. Waterson having spent the summer in Switzerland writing a history of Lincoln, and Mr. Halstead having done newspaper work in Cuba since the rebellion began. The date will depend on the opera house management, and if a favorable night cannot be secured the lecture will likely be held in a church. The directors have another meeting tonight.

MAGGIE GIVEN MONEY

She Has Been Waiting Three Years For It.

ED SCHNEIDER WAS ACQUITTED

The Specialty Won a Case, but a New Trial Was at Once Asked by the Defense—It Was Liverpool Day in Common Pleas Court.

LIVON, Dec. 4.—[Special.]—The case of Margaret Johnson against Wilford and Isaac Allison was ended in common pleas court by a judgment for $63.90, the amount being paid by Isaac.

The case was commenced in Hancock county three years ago, where the plaintiff, then Miss Margaret Body, got judgment for $420 against Wilford, who was found to be the father of her child. The court ordered that she be paid in $60 installments, and defendant was released from custody after Isaac Allison had signed a bond and agreed to pay the amount. When the money was not paid suit was brought in the mayor's court in East Liverpool, and from that appealed to common pleas.

Judge Robinson has notified the authorities that he can not be here this afternoon to hear the Simms case. No time is set, but it will be heard before the close of the term.

W. S. Vessel got judgment for $107.50 against McChie & Moore. It was for groceries.

Tobias Weaver, of Wellsville, was given a divorce from his wife, Kate. They were married in East Liverpool three years ago, and Tobias said his wife would not stay at home, but spent the greater part of her time in East Liverpool. Six months ago she took her child and deserted him.

Edward Schneider, the East Liverpool man indicted by the last grand jury for assaulting Grant McKinnon, was acquitted. They lived in the same house on Washington street, and the quarrel started with the children last July. Schneider stated that he went to enter a protest against Mrs. McKinnon calling his children names when the row occurred.

A verdict was this morning rendered for $350.57 in favor of the Specialty Glass company against Charles E. Macrum, Frank I. Simmers and the American China & Glass company. A motion was at once filed by Attorney W. B. Hill for a new trial. The ground upon which the action was brought dates back to 1895 when the defendants were in the employ of the Specialty. The defense was that the business conducted by them was with the full knowledge and consent of the company, and for the purpose of increasing its sales and reaching a class of trade which could not be otherwise reached. If a new trial is denied the matter will be taken to circuit court, to be heard principally upon the fact that the certificate of incorporation of the Specialty company, entitling them to maintain an action in the courts of the State of Ohio, was never filed with the secretary of state, under an act passed in 1893, until six months after this action was begun, while the law provides that this shall be done before any action is brought, and also provides for a fine of $50 for each day that this is not done. When this point was reached a motion was made to dismiss, but was overruled by Judge Smith, who stated that it raised a point which had never been decided by any higher court.

WHERE WAS THE SPRINKLER?

Business Men Wanted It Badly This Afternoon.

A prominent business man in conversation this afternoon with a reporter said: "I wonder where the street sprinkler is today. The dust is simply terrible, and I do think that no matter how busy the force are at least one man and the team could be spared to sprinkle the streets. Of course the wind manages to sweep the streets very well, but the dirt is driven into the stores only to be again swept back on the streets."

MORE DIPHTHERIA.

Two Cases Appeared in the Lower Part of the City.

Diphtheria has once more made its appearance in the city, just as the health authorities were hopeful that it had completely died out, and this morning two new cases were reported. Both cases are children, one at the home of William Pilgrim, Third street, and the other in the family of Jacob Shawke, Fourth street.

NEW WARE.

Two Kilns of Semi-Porcelain Drawn at Sebring's.

The manufacture of the new grade of semi-porcelain ware has been commenced at the Sebring pottery, and today the first two kilns of it were drawn. The ware is of a superior quality, and the firm is well pleased with the first output. The kilns were fired in a highly successful manner by Benjamin Haynes, and there was practically no breakage. Mr. Haynes resigned a position at the Thompson plant to take up a similar one at Sebring's.

QUICK JUSTICE.

The Prisoner Knew His Offense and Asked the Price.

Patrick Mooney, who needs no introduction to the authorities, rushed into the city hall with bated breath, and in gasps stated to the mayor that one John Mountford, who has a reputation as a fighter, had made a ferocious attack upon him. The assault, Mooney explained, was made without the least provocation, and he exhibited to His Honor sundry damages sustained to his person. Mayor Gilbert was all sympathy, and an officer was dispatched at once to find Mountford. In a short time he was found and brought to justice. "How much?" exclaimed Mountford. "$7.60," was the reply. The amount was paid.

PLEASED THE AUDIENCE.

The Concert at the First M. E. Church Was Successful.

The entertainment given at the First M. E. church last evening by members of A. W. Ferren's Sunday school class was largely attended, and a snug sum netted to help pay the church debt. Every member on the program received an encore, but the autoharp and month-organ duet of Robert Larkins and Eddie Weaver proved the favorite, and the boys responded five times.

WALKED BY A WOMAN.

She Crossed the New Bridge Without a Tremor.

Parties on the railroad at noon were surprised to see a man and woman walk out on the narrow board walk of the bridge, and begin the dangerous journey to the Virginia shore. The woman showed no signs of fear, and stepped off with as much confidence as though she was walking on the street. She did not hesitate, and crossed the bridge without accident.

Have a Whole List of New Officers For the Year.

The Junior Mechanics last evening elected the following officers: Will Kent, councillor; Thomas Buckley, vice councillor; W. L. Foster, recording secretary; Bert Vanfossen, assistant recording secretary; A. W. King, financial secretary; A. W. Duncan, warden; J. Mills, inside sentinel; Warren Bright, treasurer; A. W. Duncan, host.

It is said that a well-known young man left the city last Saturday evening for parts unknown, taking with him between $25 and $30 belonging to his employer. He also left behind a large board bill, together with a number of other unpaid accounts.

Stopped the Fight.

A dog fight occurred at the depot a few minutes before the noon train arrived, and there was a general scattering of people. Finally the owner of one of the animals appeared on the scene, and succeeded in settling the disturbance by taking his dog by the neck, and carrying it away in his arms.

For Fifteen Years.

A stock company have leased the Mackall property on Sixth street for fifteen years, with the privilege of five more, and may build a business block, but have not yet decided. The property fronts 46 feet on Sixth street.

They Were Late.

The judges of election from the first precinct of the Third ward have at last sent in their bill to Clerk Norris. They will not receive the amount due them until after the last meeting in the month.

In a Few Days.

The quarters of the Young Men's Christian association in the George building will be opened to the public as soon as workmen complete the stairway, so the place can be heated.

Sold a Bicycle.

Constable Bertele this morning sold the bicycle of Jud Frederick to Charles Hutchinson for $10.50. The wheel was seized on an execution issued in favor of W. O. Hamilton.

Electing Officers.

The Grand Army will meet this evening and elect officers for the coming year. Delegates to the next state encampment will also be selected.

THEY LEARNED MUCH

Prohibitionists Were Taught a Few Lessons

DURING THE LATE CAMPAIGN

The Woolley Club Decided Last Night That the Late Struggle Was Not Unproductive of Result—Not Much Sympathy From the Churches.

The John G. Woolley club had a meeting last night, and decided, after hearing the opinion of the members, that the Prohibitionists could expect little support from the churches.

The meeting was held in the rooms of J. L. Swan in the Fouts building. "What I Learned During the Late Election" brought forth interesting three-minute speeches from C. F. Bough, J. C. McClain, S. J. Faulk, John Horton, J. L. Swan, and Mrs. D. McDonald. Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Swan. Business and music took up the remainder of the time.

A leading member of the organization said after the meeting that the prevailing opinion was that they had learned these valuable lessons during the campaign:

"First—That after the adoption of the single issue at the Pittsburg convention, the action being taken to please the church people, whose excuse had been that other issues in the Prohibition platform had driven them away, and had failed in the object, they now knew it was as it had been with slavery—the church vote cannot be depended on to help in the cause."

"Second—That it would take the power of a mind reader to discover those 109 Prohibitionists who voted in the city at the last election, as at least 300 voters had claimed it before and after the election."

"Third—That no minister need fear to introduce politics into the pulpit after the precedent of this campaign. Those same ministers rushed into the fray with clear conscience, they say, when the money in which their salaries is paid was a-sailed; but when the great principle of the prohibition of the liquor traffic, and the saving of souls endangered by that traffic was urged as a fit subject for a sermon from the pulpit, as well as for reformers outside the pale of any church, they couldn't think of bringing politics into their pulpits."

"Fourth—That since the pulpit as a unit was silent on this point, therefore, as individuals who feel the importance of this question as fire in the bone, we should, at the risk of being called cranks, cry aloud that the saloon in this country exists as a being of law, because God's people love to have it so."

"Fifth—That if you just happen to have social prestige or power you can stay in the Methodist Episcopal church even if you are clearly proven to be a fit subject for discipline as laid down in the laws of that church; and that your own pastor and presiding elder will fly to the rescue to keep you in, always provided you have this position."

Cleaning City Hall.

The trio of prisoners at city hall, Quinn, Hontzleman and the lad Rusby, were all hard at work today cleaning that institution. Hontzleman remarked to a reporter that the only time the lock-up was put into a state of cleanliness was when he was incarcerated.

Married Today.

J. F. Joyce, a well known militiaman, and Miss Mary Kirchner, will be married this afternoon by Squire Manley at his home on East Market street. The contracting parties are well known and have a host of friends who wish them happiness.

Died of Diphtheria.

Word was received here today saying that John, son of Rev. F. C. Lemcke, of Rochester, who preached here at the dedication services of the Lutheran church, died of diphtheria this morning. The funeral will be tomorrow.

To Entertain Their Friends.

At the meeting of the Elks last evening it was decided to hold an open social Dec. 16. The event will be an old fashioned event, and in addition to each member bringing his family he is privileged to invite a friend.

Went to Canton.

George Hamilton, A. H. McCoy and T. O. Timmons made up a party who went to Canton this morning. They will call on President McKinley, and return home this evening.

William Burgess left this morning for an extended visit in New Orleans. He has been in ill health for some time, and is threatened with pneumonia.

A motion was at once filed by Attorney W. B. Hill for a new trial. The ground upon which the action was brought dates back to 1895 when the defendants were in the employ of the Specialty. The defense was that the business conducted by them was with the full knowledge and consent of the company, and for the purpose of increasing its sales and reaching a class of trade which could not be otherwise reached. If a new trial is denied the matter will be taken to circuit court, to be heard principally upon the fact that the certificate of incorporation of the Specialty company, entitling them to maintain an action in the courts of the State of Ohio, was never filed with the secretary of state, under an act passed in 1893, until six months after this action was begun, while the law provides that this shall be done before any action is brought, and also provides for a fine of $50 for each day that this is not done. When this point was reached a motion was made to dismiss, but was overruled by Judge Smith, who stated that it raised a point which had never been decided by any higher court.

WHERE WAS THE SPRINKLER?

Business Men Wanted It Badly This Afternoon.

A prominent business man in conversation this afternoon with a reporter said: "I wonder where the street sprinkler is today. The dust is simply terrible, and I do think that no matter how busy the force are at least one man and the team could be spared to sprinkle the streets. Of course the wind manages to sweep the streets very well, but the dirt is driven into the stores only to be again swept back on the streets."

MORE DIPHTHERIA.

Two Cases Appeared in the Lower Part of the City.

Diphtheria has once more made its appearance in the city, just as the health authorities were hopeful that it had completely died out, and this morning two new cases were reported. Both cases are children, one at the home of William Pilgrim, Third street, and the other in the family of Jacob Shawke, Fourth street.

NEW WARE.

Two Kilns of Semi-Porcelain Drawn at Sebring's.

The manufacture of the new grade of semi-porcelain ware has been commenced at the Sebring pottery, and today the first two kilns of it were drawn. The ware is of a superior quality, and the firm is well pleased with the first output. The kilns were fired in a highly successful manner by Benjamin Haynes, and there was practically no breakage. Mr. Haynes resigned a position at the Thompson plant to take up a similar one at Sebring's.

QUICK JUSTICE.

The Prisoner Knew His Offense and Asked the Price.

Patrick Mooney, who needs no introduction to the authorities, rushed into the city hall with bated breath, and in gasps stated to the mayor that one John Mountford, who has a reputation as a fighter, had made a ferocious attack upon him. The assault, Mooney explained, was made without the least provocation, and he exhibited to His Honor sundry damages sustained to his person. Mayor Gilbert was all sympathy, and an officer was dispatched at once to find Mountford. In a short time he was found and brought to justice. "How much?" exclaimed Mountford. "$7.50," was the reply. The amount was paid.

PLEASED THE AUDIENCE.

The Concert at the First M. E. Church Was Successful.

The entertainment given at the First M. E. church last evening by members of A. W. Ferren's Sunday school class was largely attended, and a snug sum netted to help pay the church debt. Every member on the program received an encore, but the autoharp and mouth-organ duet of Robert Larkins and Eddie Weaver proved the favorite, and the boys responded five times.

WALKED BY A WOMAN.

She Crossed the New Bridge Without a Tremor.

Parties on the railroad at noon were surprised to see a man and woman walk out on the narrow board walk of the bridge, and begin the dangerous journey to the Virginia shore. The woman showed no signs of fear, and stepped off with as much confidence as though she was walking on the street. She did not hesitate, and crossed the bridge without accident.

Have a Whole List of New Officers For the Year.

The Junior Mechanics last evening elected the following officers: Will Kent, councillor; Thomas Buckley, vice councillor; W. L. Foster, recording secretary; Bert Vanfossan, assistant recording secretary; A. W. King, financial secretary; A. W. Duncan, warden; J. Mills, inside sentinel; Warren Bright, treasurer; A. W. Duncan, host.

It is said that a well-known young man left the city last Saturday evening for parts unknown, taking with him between $25 and $30 belonging to his employer. He also left behind a large board bill, together with a number of other unpaid accounts.

Stopped the Fight.

A dog fight occurred at the depot a few minutes before the noon train arrived, and there was a general scattering of people. Finally the owner of one of the animals appeared on the scene, and succeeded in settling the disturbance by taking his dog by the neck, and carrying it away in his arms.

For Fifteen Years.

A stock company have leased the Mackall property on Sixth street for fifteen years, with the privilege of five more, and may build a business block, but have not yet decided. The property fronts 46 feet on Sixth street.

They Were Late.

The judges of election from the first precinct of the Third ward have at last peeped in their bill to Clerk Norris. They will not receive the amount due them until after the last meeting in the month.

In a Few Days.

The quarters of the Young Men's Christian association in the George building will be opened to the public as soon as workmen complete the stairway, so the place can be heated.

Sold a Bicycle.

Constable Bertele this morning sold the bicycle of Jud Frederick to Charles Hutchinson for $10.50. The wheel was seized on an execution issued in favor of W. O. Hamilton.

Electing Officers.

The Grand Army will meet this evening and elect officers for the coming year. Delegates to the next state encampment will also be selected.

DURING THE LATE CAMPAIGN

The Woolley Club Decided Last Night That the Late Struggle Was Not Unproductive of Result—Not Much Sympathy From the Churches.

The John G. Woolley club had a meeting last night, and decided, after hearing the opinion of the members, that the Prohibitionists could expect little support from the churches.

The meeting was held in the rooms of J. L. Swan in the Fouts building. "What I Learned During the Late Election" brought forth interesting three-minute speeches from C. F. Bough, J. C. McClain, S. J. Faulk, John Horton, J. L. Swan, and Mrs. D. McDonald, Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Swan. Business and music took up the remainder of the time.

A leading member of the organization said after the meeting that the prevailing opinion was that they had learned these valuable lessons during the campaign:

"First—That after the adoption of the single issue at the Pittsburg convention, the action being taken to please the church people, whose excuse had been that other issues in the Prohibition platform had driven them away, and had failed in the object, they now knew it was as it had been with slavery—the church vote cannot be depended on to help in the cause.

"Second—That it would take the power of a mind reader to discover those 109 Prohibitionists who voted in the city at the last election, as at least 300 voters had claimed it before and after the election.

"Third—That no minister need fear to introduce politics into the pulpit after the precedent of this campaign. Those same ministers rushed into the fray with clear conscience, they say, when the money in which their salaries is paid was a-sailed; but when the great principle of the prohibition of the liquor traffic, and the saving of souls endangered by that traffic was urged as a fit subject for a sermon from the pulpit, as well as for reformers outside the pale of any church, they couldn't think of bringing politics into their pulpits.

"Fourth—That since the pulpit as a unit was silent on this point, therefore, as individuals who feel the importance of this question as fire in the bone, we should, at the risk of being called cranks, cry aloud that the saloon in this country exists as a being of law, because God's people love to have it so.

"Fifth—That if you just happen to have social prestige or power you can stay in the Methodist Episcopal church even if you are clearly proven to be a fit subject for discipline as laid down in the laws of that church; and that your own pastor and presiding elder will fly to the rescue to keep you in, always provided you have this position."

Cleaning City Hall.

The trio of prisoners at city hall, Quinn, Hontzleman and the lad Rusby, were all hard at work today cleaning that institution. Hontzleman remarked to a reporter that the only time the lock-up was put into a state of cleanliness was when he was incarcerated.

Married Today.

J. F. Joyce, a well known militiaman, and Miss Mary Kirchner, will be married this afternoon by Squire Manley at his home on East Market street. The contracting parties are well known and have a host of friends who wish them happiness.

Died of Diphtheria.

Word was received here today saying that John, son of Rev. F. C. Lemcke, of Rochester, who preached here at the dedication services of the Lutheran church, died of diphtheria this morning. The funeral will be tomorrow.

To Entertain Their Friends.

At the meeting of the Elks last evening it was decided to hold an open social Dec. 16. The event will be an old fashioned event, and in addition to each member bringing his family he is privileged to invite a friend.

Went to Canton.

George Hamilton, A. H. McCoy and T. O. Timmons made up a party who went to Canton this morning. They will call on President McKinley, and return home this evening.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, DEC. 4

So MATHEMATICIAN GROSVENOR will not be a candidate for speaker of the next house. That story had all the marks of a Democratic fake.

Let every charitable man and woman
do what is possible to help the good women of the Temperance union give the poor of the city a merry Christmas.

If the stories from Trenton are to be taken as truth, East Liverpool people have more respect for the law than have the denizens of its pottery rival of the east.

SOME of the political boomlets already floating about will have ascended beyond the range of human view before the primaries are held, or there are some mistaken Republican politicians in this county.

EAST LIVERPOOL will push rapidly to the front when it is once given the opportunity, but congress must be kind enough to restore the McKinley tariff before it will be the town it was a few years ago.

THE Democratic press with one breath declares it wants the return of prosperity, and with the next gives utterance to sentiments that, if put into practice, would drive prosperity to the moon, or some other distant land.

A FEW more years of Wilson's infamous measure and the sheep raising industry would have been swept from the country. The loss these past two years has amounted to 4,600,000 sheep, costing their owners millions of dollars.

KNOWING that he never did anything for the state while in the senate, Calvin
S. Brice promises to build a few railroads in Ohio as soon as he is out of office. Calvin knows, with the rest of the world, that he is a beautiful failure
as a statesman.

POOR POTTS. He is still keeping up the fight for silver, and in a desultory manner attempting to show that all the life was not crushed from his well-fed form by the late defeat; but it will not go down. Potts, like all the other silver men in the county, knows his cause is dead.

If it was left to the Eighteenth district, a protective tariff law would be passed within a month after the inauguration of Major McKinley. Too many men suffered reduced wages, and too many capitalists lost money to allow of any other sentiment in this great manufacturing country.

MR. CLEVELAND will certainly surprise
those who have followed his public actions closest if he incorporates in his message some stern sentiment relative to the position of this country in the Cuban matter. The stuffed prophet never did have much backbone when it came to foreign policy.

THE REAL ISSUE.

It is with no little satisfaction that the average Republican observes the great change in the expression of public sentiment since the election. A few months ago silver was on every man's tongue.
From every corner of the country came the sound of voices, some arguing for gold and some for free coinage, and all discussing silver. Luckily that time has gone by. Instead of the financial question as an individual issue, we find the people going at the bottom of the trouble and demanding tariff legislation. Opinions from all parts of the land tell the same story. A change in the monetary system is seldom mentioned. All agree that aid can only come through a wise, conservative, protective measure, which will not only provide sufficient revenue to keep the wolf from the government's door, but will allow abundant work at good wages and sufficient profit. The money question rather overshadowed the tariff during the campaign, but now that a Republican administration is in sight, the demand for that which will afford relief grows greater with every day.

Bank Robber Trap.

The latest device for bringing to naught the ill directed energy of the thief who presents a pistol to the head of bank officials in broad daylight and during business hours is reported from the west. This species of criminal activity is getting to be painfully common of late, the usual plan being for the bandit to select an opportune moment, when lots of money is in sight, and rush up to the window, thrust his pistol through the cashier's opening and demand the funds on pain of instant death in case of a refusal. The system devised for trapping this species of the gentry consists of a drop fitted in the floor in front of the pay window and so nicely adjusted as to be unnoticed except upon close examination. The dropping of the trap is effected by a knob on the inside and readily accessible to the cashier. Directly beneath the drop a shoot extends downward about six feet and converging to a point at the bottom. The sides of this shoot are lined with spikes, which project inward and downward. When Mr. Robber steps to the window and makes his demand,
the cashier grabs the money with one hand, as if to deliver it, says, "All right, here you are," and with the other turns the knob that unlatches the drop, when "down goes McGinty," wedged into the shoot between the spikes, from which no amount of cursing will extricate him, and the bank partition, being bulletproof, if he chooses to shoot, it only adds to the alarm already given by the bank's officials, which brings the police to bag
the game so effectually caught.—New Ideas.

Little Courtesy Among Travelers.

"I am sorry to have to say it," remarked a sleeping car conductor, "but somehow—and I have no explanation for it—men traveling are not as courteous and accommodating to lady travelers as they should be. The men who ask for all kinds of accommodations, when they have their wives, sisters or female relatives traveling with them—and they never fail then to claim everything in sight—are in many cases the men who decline to give similar favors to other lady passengers. As a matter of fact the upper berths in a sleeping car are the best, the best ventilated, and I think experience has shown the demand is nearly always for the lower berths, because it is easier to get into them. This is particularly so with lady travelers. In my last half dozen trips from and back to this city I have had more than the usual percentage of lady passengers, and I have not succeeded in one case in getting any of the men travelers to surrender a lower berth for an upper berth. The men, being more experienced, secured the lower berths and refused to give them up."—Washington Star.

Personal Ends.

"Saw you coming out of the barber's er.

"I went in on business connected with purely personal ends," replied A-bury Peppers with much dignity.
"Oh, beg pardon, I—"
"That is to say, I got my hair cut and my shoes shined."—Cincinnati Ex-

HEROISM IN MINES.

Instances Where Brave Men Have Risked
Their Lives to Save Others.

Never was there a mining disaster of any magnitude without several instances of individual gallantry in saving boys alone, says a writer in Chums.
As a colliery manager said the other day, "There may be a score of cases of that kind after a single accident and nobody be the wiser."

"A boy told me once," he proceeded,
"that after an explosion one of the men who was with him brought him along a considerable distance in the workings.
At last they met the afterdamp. The lad was so terrified, so anxious to get out, that he wanted to rush through and make his way to the shaft. If he had gone on, he certainly would have dropped, but the man would not let him. He stopped him by force, and though the lad bit and fought like a little demon he stuck to him and held him near to the ground, so that they could breathe. How do you think he calmed the boy at last? Sang comic songs to him. Well, they had to keep where they were for about five hours,
and then, when the air had got better,
the man started off and brought the youngster out safely, though once he was nearly suffocated by the afterdamp.
Now, there's a case that nobody would have heard of probably if the lad hadn't happened to have told me about it."

As an instance of heroism in this direction that is known, however, I recall a story I heard near the bank of the Hydra pit after the explosion in 1889.
You know that the slightest delay in flying for the shaft may mean death.
In the neighborhood of Belton some few years ago one man out of a party of colliers stopped behind for a minute or so to look for his son, a boy of 14, who was working close by. The two met, but, alas, they perished there together and were found clasped in each other's arms. And paternal devotion as thus manifested has cost many a brave fellow his life.

Well, on the occasion referred to a man named Haslam brought from the workings, or met as he was scurrying along to the pit mouth, a youth about 16, and throughout the terrible journey
he stuck to the lad with the most heroic determination. Twice the boy stumbled and fell, but the noble collier dragged him to his feet and urged him to push on with all speed. Other mishaps befell them, yet both, I rejoice to say, gained the surface alive and comparatively well.

Something About Partridges.

Among the habits of the partridge
one is that when a covey is roosting on the ground, with their tails bunched together in a circle, the bunch is surmounted by a line of watchful heads, like sentinels on duty. Another is that they run the instant the ground is touched after a "flush," the dogs often trailing them in rabbit hunting fashion.
Their sense of smell is evidently very acute, for during the nesting season, if the eggs, which number from 10 to 20,
are disturbed in any way or a hand ever inserted in the nest, it will be immediately deserted and a new one built. A short time previous to the nesting the males are often involved in desperate combats for the choice of mates, who stand by and quietly watch the encounter, seeming not to care which one becomes the victor. The incubation is performed entirely by the female, the male, when not feeding, often being perched on some slight elevation, calling "bobwhite." Two and sometimes three broods of young are reared during a season, the nesting beginning as early as May 1. Later in the fall the brood of young occasionally join forces, but whether from a want of company or for protection is not known.

When feeding, the birds are sometimes scattered several yards apart, but at the first sign of danger an alarm is given, and they immediately "bunch,"
with their heads placed close together, as if in consultation. The first shot into a covey will often cause them to break and fly in all directions, and if not disturbed again for several minutes "scatter calls" will be heard on every side.
These are made to collect the remaining birds, who again bunch. Many of the market gunners seem to have no qualms of conscience and very often kill with out hesitation an entire covey, when at least one or two pairs of birds should

Question of Adipose.

A criminal lawyer of long experience at the bar was heard to say the other
day:

"I have made juries in murder cases an especial study. There are a large number of men, larger than most people suppose, who have scruples about finding death as a punishment for a murderer. I used to make it my business to study juries' faces and see if I could read by the lines whether or not they had scruples about the death sentence. I gave this up, though, as being beyond my power of comprehension.

Later continued study of the jury box led me to a discovery. That was that in nine cases out of ten a jury composed mostly of tall, lean men would, when the evidence was sufficient, never have the slightest hesitation about fixing extreme sentence. On the other hand, a jury where short, fat men predominated
in number would occupy twice as much time in finding its verdict, and when brought in it would generally be a term of imprisonment for the murderer."—

BICYCLE GRIPS.

The Habit of Holding the Handle Bar at the Center.

Assume, if you please, that the grips are properly placed at the ends of the handle bar, from 12 to 18 inches apart,
and that the proper place for the rider's hands is on the grips. The fact remains that the average rider seldom touches
his grips in riding, but grips the naked bar on either side of and close to the top of the steering head. Are we to infer from this that the standard of handle bar construction is all wrong and that the grips should be at the top of the bar and not more than eight inches apart, or that the bar should be left long to meet the exigencies of rough riding, while the material of which the grips are made should cover the entire bar up to within an inch or two of the center, or that it would be well to have a pair of supplementary grips at the place indicated by the position assumed by the rider, or what?

Undoubtedly the present standard handle bar is correct. The average rider, for one thing, has his grips dropped so low that he cannot reach them conveniently, so that his easiest position is with his hands on the top of the bar,
and again many riders, with level or upturned bars, who are able to reach their grips comfortably, have acquired the habit of grasping the nickel in deference to the popular idea. We think that every rider is obliged at times to use his grips. Full handle bar leverage is necessary whenever steering is rendered difficult by rough surface or otherwise.
At such times every rider finds that the standard bar comes in handy. Supplementary grips would detract measurably from the trim appearance of the handle bar, and it may be doubted whether cyclists as a class would tolerate them. A bar entirely covered with cork or other grip material would speedily become soiled and make a sorry looking object in comparison with the bright nickel bar.—American Cyclist.

MARRIAGE FOR MONEY.

Dr. Parkhurst on the Tendency to Degrade
Marriage to the Level of Commerce.

"I cannot dismiss this matter without deprecating the tendency so conspicuously operative among us to degrade
marriage to the level of commerce,"
writes the Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst, D. D., in The Ladies' Home Journal in a paper on "The Young Man and Marriage." "This is not denying that there are material considerations that in this matter, as in all others, require to be respected. A poor young man marrying a poor young girl, with only the prospect that their life will become more and more complicated as time goes on, is a fool. I have had affectionate couples wait upon me to be married and then ask me to trust them for the wedding
fee. I think that we who are clergymen ought to refuse to marry applicants who cannot show to our satisfaction that there is no likelihood that either they or their possible offspring will ever come upon the town.

"Nor, on the other hand, does my objection lie against any amount of contingent assets with which either or both of the contracting parties may chance to be endowed. My only contention is that in every marriage not essentially unholy the basal element is love, and that marriages which are 'arranged,' marriages which mean, first of all, an affair of perquisites or a barter in commodities, are a distinct infraction upon the spirit of the seventh commandment. The voluminous displays with which we know such unions to be sometimes celebrated only aggravate the mischief and operate to teach our young people in all conditions of life that marriage may be reduced to a species of traffic, differing from the dealings on the Stock or Produce Exchanges only in some of the details with which the bargain is consummated.
Such examples are distinctly alien to the entire genius of the institution of marriage."

PRACTICING LAW.

The Judge Says It Is Absolutely Devoid
of Amusement.

"There's no more fun in the practice of law," observed the judge as he softly brushed away the film of soft ashes from the live end of his cigar. "Thirty years ago, when we used to impeach all the witnesses on the other side and have two or three fights every noon recess, it was worth while to be in the profession."

"I read in my old home paper yesterday that Bill Traynor was dead. There was a character. Did I ever tell you the story about him?"

"Bill once sat on a jury in one of my first cases. It was an assault and battery case. The trouble came up over the attempt to build a fence across a highway. There were two defendants and four prosecuting witnesses. The trial was held at the home of the justice of the peace, a clapboard little house right out in a cornfield. We couldn't find 12 men in the township, so we agreed to a jury of six. The justice's wife stood in the doorway during the trial and dictated all the rulings.

"They didn't make any case against us—my partner and I appeared for the defense—but we knew the juryman wanted their fees, and they wouldn't get any if the defendants won. So we were not very hopeful.

"The six juryman went out into the cornfield to deliberate. They were gone about two hours and then brought in a verdict of guilty and fined each of the defendants $5 and costs. The jury was about to be discharged when my partner jumped up and said to one of the jurymen: 'Say, who are you? I don't remember seeing you before.' Then the foreman spoke up and said: 'That's all right. Bill Traynor couldn't wait. He went off home, and we got Joe here to take his place.'

"That's a fact. Bill had put in a substitute on the jury after they got out in the cornfield. The justice said it was all right anyway, so long as there was a majority of the jury present, but I got up and threatened to sue him on his bond, so he got scared and set aside the verdict and discharged our clients.

"After I came on the bench Bill Traynor was up before me for stealing a steer, and I made the instructions to the jury rather favorable to him, and he was acquitted. You see, I had a friendly feeling for him because he had helped me to win one of my first cases."

with ease and comfort. If unable to do so, your eyes are defective and should have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading or writing, or if the letters and lines seem to swim before you, or if you find that glasses are needed, the same will be the case with all the eyes that are not properly cared for. Consult an eye doctor at once

COME, HELP THE POOR

Give the Children of the City
One Good Night.

AN ENTERTAINMENT AND TREAT

The Little Ones Who Have No Santa Claus
at Home Will Be Made to Know How Pleasant Are the Lives of Their More Fortunate Fellows.

If the good ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance union can bring it about, several hundred poor children of the city will remember the evening of Dec. 28, as one of the brightest spots in lives which have never known the true meaning of brightness.

The ladies announce that it is their purpose to entertain and treat the poor children at the George building the Monday evening following Christmas.
A program which will include the cantata "The Santa Claus Boys," will be rendered, and every effort will be made to have the little guests enjoy the occasion from the time they enter the building until they leave for their homes.
The program also includes such sports and amusements as children always appreciate, and in every way will the ladies bend their efforts so as to make this first Christmas gift a memorable one.

But they must have help. They are willing to work hard and do what they can, but they want the co-operation of the public. With this end in view they ask that all whose hearts prompt them, do something. Those whose lot has been cast in more pleasant places are urged to contribute toys, books or clothing from the abundance of such things that accumulate from year to year in the homes of the well-to-do. There are somethings of this sort about every house, and they will never be missed, while their presence at this entertainment will do much toward making these poor children happy. Such contributions can be left at the Young Men's Christian association any time between this and Christmas.

A BANQUET

Will Mark the Initiation of the Heptasoph's Officers.

The Heptasophs, at the regular meeting last evening, elected the following officers:

Past Archon, M. M. Huston; archon,
J. B. Appell; provost, C. W. Brownfield; treasurer, C. H. Birkett; secretary, George Matheny; financier, J.
T. King; prelate, James Morlan; inspector, Leon Rich; warder, N. T. Ash-baugh; sentinel, Charles Fowler; trustees, Monroe Patterson, N. T. Ashbaugh, and Thomas Todd.

The officers will be installed January 7, and a banquet will be a feature of the evening.

REDUCED FREIGHT RATES.

Rivermen Cut the Charges on Manufactured Articles.

Representatives of the packet companies doing business on the Ohio and Mississippi have just ended a meeting in Cincinnati, where they cut the freight rates. The action was made necessary by the low rates charged by tramp steamers from New York to points on the lower river and the gulf, and Pittsburg shippers could not compete with their eastern competitors. It is believed the reduction will greatly increase freight business, as rates are now far below the railroads.

NO SUNDAY SERVICES.

Reverend Reinartz Will Not Be Home
Tomorrow.

Reverend Smith received a wire
from Reverend Reinartz last night containing the intelligence that Doctor Eppling would not be buried until Sunday, and he could not leave Green Bay until Monday. This necessitates postponement of confirmation and communion services, and they will not be conducted until Dec. 10, when the arrangements made for next Sunday will be carried out. There will be no services in the Lutheran church on Sunday.

A HOPE

That the Humane Society Have Seen the Last of Old Horses.

The Humane society are very hopeful that they have seen the last of old horses, as they have been deluged with broken down animals for two weeks.
Country people bring the animals to the city and present them to small boys to save the expense of burying them, and in a short time the Humane society is called upon to get rid of them. The society will make it very unpleasant for any of the offenders if they are caught.

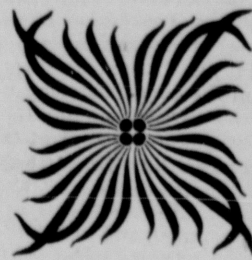

TIMES TOO HARD

For Milkmen to Raise to the Winter
Price.

For the first time in the history of the city the milkmen failed to raise the price of milk this fall, and it is still selling at six cents per quart instead of the usual price of eight. A prominent dealer, when asked for the cause, said it was due to the hard times. They will not increase the price.

BOLD YOUNG THIEVES.

They Helped Themselves to Fine Fat
Chickens.

Yesterday afternoon, in full view of the freight depot employees, three lads entered the yard at the residence of J.
B. Williams, on College street, and proceeding to the chicken coop, stole two fat fowls. Those who witnessed the bold theft gave chase, and caught one of the lads. The others, escaping, called at several shops and offered their stolen property for sale. The chickens were finally sold for a small amount to a Market street butcher. The captured boy was chastised and allowed to go after promising not to repeat the offence.
As the other lads were known, Williams went to them, and upon agreeing to pay for the chickens he decided not to prosecute. The same lads, earlier in the day, attempted to rob a shanty boat man of his chickens, but his wife and daughter discovered the lads in the act, and giving chase with a carving knife, forced the bad boys to drop their booty.

THE VIOLIN.

An Admirer of Remenyi Tells of the Latter's Skill.

The following warm tribute to Remenyi, the world-famous violinist,
will be of special interest to the readers of the NEWS REVIEW, now that the great player is booked to appear in East Liverpool:

"Have I heard Remenyi on the violin?
I am glad to say that I have. Further,
I am delighted to know that I shall again have the pleasure of listening to him in his marvelous handling of the bow. He can literally make the violin talk, and talk in such a charming manner as to make the hearts of his audience thrill with genuine pleasure. He is an artist, in the broadest sense of the word, and no man or woman in this city, who loves music, should not fail to hear him.
Professor Harper deserves credit for bringing him to East Liverpool in the first place, and still greater credit for placing the price of admission at such figures as will permit all music lovers of this section to hear this truly great player."

BUD WHITING HAS GONE.

A Well-Known Colored Man Died Last Night.

Ellsworth M. Whiting, better known as Bud, died at his home on Second street at 15 minutes to 6 o'clock last evening. Deceased was ill for ten days, and suffered from stomach trouble and a complication of diseases. Wednesday evening his condition became alarming,
and it was thought he would pass away before morning. He lingered until last night, suffering greatly, and was conscious until the last. Deceased was one of the best known colored men in the city, and came here from Bellaire about ten years ago. He was 36 years old and leaves a wife. The funeral will probably take place Sunday afternoon, and services will likely be conducted by Reverend Carson. Interment will be in Riverview.

INTERESTED IN MARLATT.

Even the Children Think of the Vicious Prisoner.

The Columbus Journal, in speaking of the taming of Demon Marlatt, referred to in the NEWS REVIEW of yesterday, says:

"Mr. Rose stated that there are more people interested in Marlatt's case than in any other in the prison. His own little ones talk daily about the poor man locked up in the cell at the prison where he cannot get a word of kindness or help. Mr. Rose states that he has laid down many a night and was unable to go to sleep for thinking of Marlatt in his miserable cage, probably hungry and hopeless. He stated that he determined, at the risk of his life, if necessary, to extend a little help to the hopeless soul if such a thing were in the range of

TWO ON THE COMPANY.

Jokes at the Expense of the Gas Company.

"Say, NEWS REVIEW," exclaimed a well known resident as he entered the office last night, "I hear that the gas company, in order to follow the fitness of things, have decided to change the name to the Ohio Valley Wind company."

He had gone but a moment when the telephone bell rang, and a gentle voice
asked through the trumpet: "Is it true, NEWS REVIEW, that the plumbers have kept pace with the company, and instead of advertising gas pipe, are announcing bargains in wind pipe?"

A Good Performance.

The Melville company last evening at the Grand presented "Christmas Bells"
to a large and well pleased audience.
The play was one of the best of the week, and was portrayed in first class style. Tonight "Zeb" will be the attraction, and between the acts local talent will be introduced.

TALK OF STATESMEN.

Few Believe the Dingley Bill Will Pass.

IMMIGRATION BILL MAY PASS.

Senator Lodge Announces His Intention to Push It Through—Gerrit Thinks the Measure Will Become a Law—Senator Dubois Interviewed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Senator Dubois of Idaho has arrived for the opening of congress. In reply to a question as to the attitude of the silver Republicans on the tariff question, he replied that he had had no opportunity to consult with other senators, but that so far as the Dingley bill was concerned he did not believe there was any show of its passage. "It is a measure which has already been condemned," he said, "and it appears to me to be folly to waste time upon it. To my mind congress should meet and pass the appropriation bills and go home."

Representative Babcock of Wisconsin has arrived direct from Canton. He expressed the opinion that there would be an extra session of congress next spring and that there would be no effort at the present session to pass the Dingley bill.

"The time for the passage of the Dingley bill has passed," he said. "It was framed and offered to meet a special emergency, and even if the Dingley bill was passed at the coming session it would not obviate the necessity for an adequate revision of the tariff at some later date. The business interests of the country demand a complete solution of the problem that is responsible for the general depression. It is better, therefore, that the new congress should convene early, take up the tariff and act upon it, so as to allow the country to settle down to business under a wise and beneficent tariff law."

"I think the bill which congress will pass will be a revenue producer, that will be so adjusted as to afford ample protection to American industries and American labor, but framed upon conservative lines."

Representative Aldrich of Illinois expressed the opinion that the Dingley bill, with certain modifications, would pass the senate and be allowed by President Cleveland to become a law. He thinks the bill should be amended to secure its passage so as to increase the tax on sugar, put a duty of 10 cents a pound on it, and retire the greenbacks.

Senator Lodge expressed his determination, as chairman of the committee on immigration, to press the immigration bill to a speedy conclusion in the senate.

"The bill occupies the position of unfinished business on the senate calendar," he said, "and it will come up for consideration as soon as the senate gets down to business. The measure has been debated and the effort now will be to get a vote upon it."

The senator said he did not anticipate any special opposition to the bill.

Mr. Tawney of Minnesota, one of the Republican members of the ways and means committee of the house, is one of those who strongly opposes the passage of the Dingley bill at this session of congress.

"I fear the Greeks bearing gifts," said he, "if some of the Democrats in the senate who opposed the bill at the last session now are ready to yield to the treasury's demand for more revenue, they will do so because they realize that in the end it will prove an embarrassment to the Republicans by frustrating with delay the full consummation of the Republican policy. Everyone understands that the result of the election means a complete revision of the tariff on protective lines."

If the Dingley bill should become a law at this session an extra session would not be justified, and the complete revision would be postponed until the long session of the Fifty-fifth congress. This would keep business unsettled for 18 months, perhaps longer, and would send us into the congressional elections after a long and probably bitter fight with a tentative measure. It would give our political adversaries an immense advantage.

An extra session, on the other hand, would be advantageous, both from a business and political standpoint. The business interests will not be content until the complete revision is accomplished."

Representative Seno of New York, another Republican member of the ways and means committee, takes the position that the Dingley bill should be passed at this session if possible, or that some other measure to increase the revenue should be adopted.

Senator Gear of Iowa, one of the foremost legislative leaders in the preparation of the McKinley bill in 1890 expressed the opinion that there will be nothing done in the present session except the passage of the appropriation bills and some other measures like the immigration bill, which will not provoke much discussion or enthusiasm. The senator looks for an extra session at which the tariff and financial questions will be taken up. Senator Mitchell of Wisconsin says he does not believe anything will be done regarding either the currency or the tariff at this session.

THE MASSACRE OF ITALIANS. More Details of the Wholesale Killing in East Africa.

ZANZIBAR, Dec. 4.—The massacre of Senor Cacci, the Italian consul here, the captain of the Italian warship Voltourno and Staffetta and about six other Italian officers by the Somalis at Magadoxa, on the coast of Somaliland, East Africa, occurred on Saturday last, Nov. 28.

The party was accompanied by 70 Askaris and was on a trip into the country outside of Magadoxa when the Somalis attacked the Italians, killed all the whites and also killed 30 of the Askaris.

W. C. T. U. Convention Dates. BOSTON, Dec. 4.—Miss Frances E. Willard, president of the World's W. C. T. U., has announced that the annual convention of the national and Dominion unions will be held the last of October and the 1st of November, 1897, in the order of mention, the national at either probably Buffalo or Detroit and the Dominion in Toronto.

The Weather. Warmer and fair, probably followed on lakes by light local snows; fresh to brisk southerly winds.

DINGLEY AT CANTON.

Bregon Men Would Like to Have a Cabinet Representative.

CANTON, O., Dec. 4.—Congressman Nelson Dingley, Jr., of Lewiston, Me., chairman of the ways and means committee and author of the Dingley revenue bill, has arrived in Canton from Cleveland. He was accompanied by his son, E. N. Dingley, proprietor of the Kalamazoo Telegraph. They were met at the depot by attaches of the McKinley household and went direct to the residence. Here lunch was had, following which a consultation was held upon the pertinent questions of the hour.

Sensors John H. Mitchell and George W. McBride and Congressman Einger Herman of Oregon were also callers. They are on their way to Washington for the winter and stopped off here to pay their respects to Major McKinley. Senator McBride said: "There is nothing political in our visit to Major McKinley. It is purely of a social nature. We would be proud to have a man from Oregon in the cabinet, but as yet the sentiment has not crystallized on any one person. There has been much talk of Senator Mitchell for a place in the cabinet, but I do not think he has given it any consideration himself. We in Oregon would sooner have him go back to the senate again."

Senator John H. Thurston of Nebraska, accompanied by ex-Congressman William Mason of Illinois, have reached Canton and had an extended conference with President-elect McKinley.

W. C. T. U. TO MCKINLEY.

A Belief Expressed That He Will Bar Liquor From the White House.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—The National W. C. T. U. has sent to President-elect McKinley the following letter, signed by Katharine Lente Stevenson, corresponding secretary:

"At the recent convention of the National Women's Christian Temperance union held in St. Louis, Nov. 13 to 18, 1896, I, as national corresponding secretary, was authorized to write a letter of appreciation to yourself and gracious wife for the total abstinence principles which you are said to have maintained for so many years and for the just grounds we have for believing that the use of intoxicating liquors will be excluded from the White House during your administration. Knowing as we do, the weight your name and position must carry, we feel that a great victory will be won for righteousness by your attitude in this so vital a matter."

DANGER OVER IN WISCONSIN. A Government Engineer Examines the Ice George at Chippewa Falls.

CH. JEWELL FALLS, Wis., Dec. 4.—"The river is falling at the rate of a foot per day and there is no reason whatever for apprehension," said Colonel W. A. Jones, U. S. A., to your representative after he had put in a busy day investigating the situation along the Chippewa river.

Colonel Jones, who is in charge of the government engineering works in the northwest, had been called here by the local authorities who sought expert advice in what seemed like an extremity and critical situation. He says the situation is the same at Eau Claire.

AN INAUGURAL BALL SURE Chairman Hanna Says It Is Custom and Will Be Observed.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 4.—Concerning the report going the rounds to the effect that the inaugural ball may possibly be omitted at the coming inauguration of President-elect McKinley in March, Chairman Hanna, who has charge of the arrangements pertaining to such matters, said:

"I think the inaugural ball will be held as usual. It has become a time honored custom in connection with the inaugural ceremonies and there is no reason why it should be omitted now."

An American Woman Involved. PARIS, Dec. 4.—The Princess de Wrede has sued Prince Adolph de Wrede, who is a brother of the Austrian minister at Munich, for divorce. It is reported that the Princess Adolph, a few days ago, went through the form of marriage with an American heiress at Geneva, Switzerland.

Tried to Kill a Congressman. LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 4.—William Emmel of Ball County has made an attempt to kill Congressman D. G. Colson. Emmel was pursuing an eloping daughter and finding her seated by Colson, accused him of aiding the elopement and made the attack. He was prevented from doing harm.

A Postmaster Removed. WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The president has removed E. B. McClanahan, as postmaster at Waukegan, Ill., and has appointed William A. Meloy as his successor. The removal is stated to be due to inattention to the business of the office and too much activity in politics.

SPANIARDS DESERT.

Whole Garrison Near Havana Joined the Rebels.

CLOSE SYSTEM OF ESPIONAGE.

No Special Affairs Allowed in Havana. Letters Torn Open and People Searched. Insurgents Capture a Town, in a Way They Might Take Havana.

KEY WEST, Dec. 4.—News has been received here that the troops of the Spanish garrison at San José de las Lajas, 20 miles southeast of Havana, has abandoned their post and joined the insurgents. Many of the citizens accompanied the troops and carried ammunition with them. The news caused great excitement at the palace and fresh troops were immediately sent to the post and order was restored. Before the troops arrived anarchy reigned, and when the troops reached the city many residents were shot down in the streets.

News from Santiago de Cuba reports that the insurgents captured an important Spanish convoy of ammunition and supplies between Buycito and Manzanillo with nearly 1,000,000 rounds of Mauser and Remington cartridges.

No more social or family gatherings will be held in Havana unless special orders shall be secured from the authorities. All of the home of leading Cuban families are watched as well as the movements of foreign correspondents, and are reported to the police.

The postoffice officials open letters indiscriminately and send them to owners without use. Outgoing passengers, when suspected, are searched aboard the ships and steamship officers are closely watched.

HAVANA, Dec. 4.—The insurgent attack on Guanabacoa, on the outskirts of this city on Tuesday last, was a much more serious affair than at first stated. According to insurgent accounts Guanabacoa was attacked simultaneously at several points, while other insurgent forces fired upon the Spanish outposts at Bucaramas, on the coast.

The garrison of the fort, it is added, left that place to resist the attack on the town, but was ambushed between stone walls and farm fences by about 200 insurgents, and in spite of the gallant defense made, all the Spaniards were killed. The exact number of soldiers slain is not known. It is admitted that a number of insurgents were also killed, but here again the number is not stated.

On the other hand, the insurgents are said to have burned 74 houses in Guanabacoa instead of one house, as the official report of the affair stated.

The local authorities are doing everything possible to conceal the real facts in the case; but there is no doubt that they have received a bad scare and that the insurgents have demonstrated that it would not be a very difficult matter, in spite of the reports of the military commanders, to create just such another "scare," to say the least, in the city of Havana itself.

Private advices from Santiago de Cuba say that the province of Puerto Principe has been exceedingly quiet since the last engagement of General Castellanos with the combined insurgent forces of Gomez and Canio Garcia. The insurgent army is said to be divided. Canio Garcia is reported to be retreating eastward, while Gomez is moving west to reinvade the province of Santa Clara.

The latest advices indicate that Gomez crossed the trocha between Jacaro and Moron, when the military train there was dynamited recently.

Official dispatches, dated Nov. 28, say that the local Spanish Guerrillas of Remedios and Caibarien, mistaking a rebel for insurgents, have had a serious encounter, in which nine men were killed and 15 were wounded.

General Yncian, in Pinar del Rio, reports say, has arrived at Artemisa with 100 sick soldiers brought in carts from Cayajabos. The battalion of Asturias is said to have 480 men on the sick list in Pinar del Rio hospitals.

Artemisa advices announce the concentration of insurgents in the rear of the eastern part of the trocha.

San Juan, Dec. 4.—The Cuban junta have received from Cuba confirmation of the report of the death in battle of Major General Serafin Sanchez, inspector general of the insurgent army at Las Damas, Santa Clara province, on Nov. 20.

DETECTIVES AFTER A FIEND. He Is Suspected of Murdering People in Australia.

SYDNEY, Dec. 4.—Two persons who mysteriously disappeared are believed to have been decoyed into the bush, under the pretense of prospecting for gold, and it is feared they have been murdered, and that others have met the same fate. One body has been unearthed at Lindero.

Suspicion has fallen upon a man who is now on his way to San Francisco. Detectives are following him and he will be arrested on his arrival there.

THE RAINES LAW. Brooklyn Police Commissioner Point Out Some Good Features.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—In the investigation of the Rains law, Leonard R. Welles, commissioner of police of Brooklyn, said the good features of the law were:

"The exposure of saloons, abolition of free lunch, which had practically raised Brooklyn of an army of tramps; raising the license thereby wiping out a number of saloons that were more or less troublesome to the authorities."

Five Killed in a Political Fight. LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 4.—A fight between old man Harrison and two sons, and Morgan and two sons, has occurred in one of the mountain counties. As a result the elder Morgan is dead and both sons are dying. Both of the Harrison boys are also dead. It originated over politics.

Not Engaged to Mrs. Drayton. LONDON, Dec. 4.—George Haig, of the firm of Haig & Haig, whisky merchants of this city, says there is no truth in the statement that he is engaged to marry Mrs. Augusta Drayton, the oldest daughter of Mrs. William Astor.

BAD ITALIANS BARRED.

Hemp Reports Regarding Italy's Observance of Our Immigration Laws.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Commissioner

General Stamp of the immigration bureau has made his report to the secretary of the treasury on the result of his recent mission to Rome in the interest of the proper understanding and observance of our immigration laws.

On his arrival in Rome the Italian ministry expressed to Mr. Stamp its earnest desire that persons who would not be permitted to land in the United States should be restrained from embarkation and that such regulations as the ministry had authority to enforce should be promulgated with a view to preventing further undesirable immigration and at the same time save persons who intended to migrate a fruitless voyage.

The result of Mr. Stamp's several conferences with the Italian authorities was the issuance by Minister Rudini of a proclamation giving in detail the provisions of our immigration laws and a comprehensive explanation of each. The minister requires each immigrant to provide himself, before his departure with his own penal certificate, setting forth in detail his criminal record, if he has ever been under arrest, which must be given to the immigration officials at the United States port of entry. The proclamation also instructs all local immigration agents to refuse passports to persons not clearly entitled to land in the United States.

Mr. Stamp regards this mission as highly successful and anticipates very satisfactory results from the proclamation by Minister Rudini.

A DENIAL FROM ROME. The Pope Has No Intention of Punishing American Clergymen.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—For some time there has been periodically published dispatches pretending to come from Rome and from other points indicating proposed action on the part of the holy see in regard to archbishops, and especially touching the faculty of the Catholic university at Washington. All sorts of reprimands, removals and even degradations were promised and the names of the recipients of such favors were given. These reports have naturally annoyed those who hold the highest places in the Catholic hierarchy in America, and could not fail to create displeasure in the mind even of the pope himself.

Their effect on the pope is manifested in the following cablegram received from the papal secretary of state by the apostolic delegate, which needs no explanation nor comment.

"The holy father has learned with great sorrow of the agitation created in the United States by pretended correspondents and telegrams from Rome announcing measures soon to be taken against eminent American prelates and distinguished professors of the Catholic university."

Buffalo City Officials Arrested. BUFFALO, Dec. 4.—Eugene W. Harrington, deputy city commissioner, has been arrested on a charge of grand larceny. He had been "stuffing" a payroll. He is a relative of Mayor Jewett.

TALK OF STATESMEN.

Senator Lodge Announces His Intention to Push It Through—Gerrit Thinks the Measure Will Become a Law—Senator Dubois Interviewed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Senator Dubois of Idaho has arrived for the opening of congress. In reply to a question as to the attitude of the silver Republicans on the tariff question, he replied that he had had no opportunity to consult with other senators, but that so far as the Dingley bill was concerned he did not believe there was any show of its passage. "It is a measure which has already been condemned," he said, "and it appears to me to be folly to waste time upon it. To my mind congress should meet and pass the appropriation bills and go home."

Representative Babcock of Wisconsin has arrived direct from Canton. He expressed the opinion that there would be an extra session of congress next spring and that there would be no effort at the present session to pass the Dingley bill.

"The time for the passage of the Dingley bill has passed," he said. "It was framed and offered to meet a special emergency, and even if the Dingley bill was passed at the coming session it would not obviate the necessity for an adequate revision of the tariff at some later date. The business interests of the country demand a prompt solution of the problem that is responsible for the general depression. It is better, therefore, that the new congress should convene early, take up the tariff and act upon it, so as to allow the country to settle down to business under a wise and beneficent tariff law."

"I think the bill which congress will pass will be a revenue producer, that will be as adjusted as to afford ample protection to American industries and American labor, but framed upon conservative lines."

Representative Aldrich of Illinois expressed the opinion that the Dingley bill, with certain modifications, would pass the senate and be allowed by President Cleveland to become a law. He thinks the bill should be amended to secure its passage by increasing the tax on sugar, put a duty of 10 cents a pound on tea, and retire the greenbacks.

Senator Lodge expressed his determination, as chairman of the committee on immigration, to press the immigration bill to a speedy conclusion in the senate.

The bill occupies the position of unfinished business on the senate calendar," he said, "and it will come up for consideration as soon as the senate gets down to business. The measure has already been debated and the effort now will be to get a vote upon it."

Mr. Tawney of Minnesota, one of the Republican members of the ways and means committee of the house, is one of those who strongly oppose the passage of the Dingley bill at this session of congress. "I fear the Greeks bearing gifts," said he, "if some of the Democrats in the senate who opposed the bill at the last session now are ready to yield to the treasury's demand for more revenue, they will do so because they realize that in the end it will prove an embarrassment to the Republicans by frustrating with delay the full consummation of the Republican policy. Everyone understands that the result of the election means a complete revision of the tariff on protective lines. If the Dingley bill should become a law at this session an extra session would not be justifiable and the complete revision would be postponed until the long session of the Fifty-fifth congress. This would keep business unsettled for 18 months, perhaps longer, and would send us into the congressional elections after a long and probably bitter fight with a tentative measure. It would give our political adversaries an immense advantage. An extra session, on the other hand, would be advantageous, both from a business and political standpoint. The business interests will not be content until the complete revision is accomplished."

Representative Serrano E. Payne of New York, another Republican member of the ways and means committee, takes the position that the Dingley bill should be passed at this session if possible, or that some other measure to increase the revenue should be adopted.

Senator Gore of Iowa, one of the foremost legislators connected with the preparation of the McKinley bill in 1890 expressed the opinion that there will be nothing done in the present session except the passage of the appropriation bills and some other measures like the immigration bill, which will not provoke much discussion or enthusiasm. The senator looks for an extra session at which the tariff and financial questions will be taken up. Senator Gore of Wisconsin says he does not believe anything will be done regarding either the currency or the tariff at this session.

THE MASSACRE OF ITALIANS.

More Details of the Wholesale Killing in East Africa.

ZANZIBAR, Dec. 4.—The massacre of Senor Cacchi, the Italian consul here, the captains of the Italian warships Volturro and Staffetta and about six other Italian officers by the Somali at Magadoxo, on the coast of Somaliland, East Africa, occurred on Saturday last, Nov. 28.

The party was accompanied by 70 Askaris and was on a trip into the country outside of Magadoxo when the Somalis attacked the Italians, killed all the whites and also killed 30 of the Askaris.

DINGLEY AT CANTON.

Bregon Men Would Like to Have a Cabinet Representative.

CANTON, O., Dec. 4.—Congressman Nelson Dingley, Jr., of Lewiston, Me., chairman of the ways and means committee and author of the Dingley revenue bill, has arrived in Canton from Cleveland. He was accompanied by his son, E. N. Dingley, proprietor of the Kalamazoo Telegraph. They were met at the depot by attaches of the McKinley household and went direct to the residence. Here lunch was had, following which a consultation was held upon the pertinent questions of the hour.

Senators John H. Mitchell and George W. McBride and Congressman Binger Herman of Oregon were also callers. They are on their way to Washington for the winter and stopped off here to pay their respects to Major McKinley. Senator McBride said: "There is nothing political in our visit to Major McKinley. It is purely of a social nature. We would be proud to have a man from Oregon in the cabinet, but as yet the sentiment has not crystallized on any one person. There has been much talk of Senator Mitchell for a place in the cabinet, but I do not think he has given it any consideration himself. We in Oregon would sooner have him go back to the senate again."

Senator John H. Thurston of Nebraska, accompanied by ex-Congressman William Mason of Illinois, have reached Canton and had an extended conference with President-elect McKinley.

W. C. T. U. TO MCKINLEY.

A Belief Expressed That He Will Bar Liquor From the White House.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—The National W. C. T. U. has sent to President-elect McKinley the following letter, signed by Katharine Lente Stevenson, corresponding secretary:

"At the recent convention of the National Women's Christian Temperance union held in St. Louis, Nov. 13 to 18, 1896, I, as national corresponding secretary, was authorized to write a letter of appreciation to yourself and gracious wife for the total abstinence principles which you are said to have maintained for so many years and for the just grounds you have for believing that the use of intoxicating liquors will be excluded from the White House during your administration. Knowing as we do, the weight your name and position must carry, we feel that a great victory will be won for righteousness by your attitude in this so vital a matter."

DANGER OVER IN WISCONSIN.

A Government Engineer Examines the Ice Gorge at Chippewa Falls.

CH. WEA FALLS, Wis., Dec. 4.—"The river is falling at the rate of a foot per day and there is no reason whatever for apprehension," said Colonel W. A. Jones, U. S. A., to your representative after he had put in a busy day investigating the situation along the Chippewa river.

Colonel Jones, who is in charge of the government engineering works in the northwest, had been called here by the local authorities who sought expert advice in what seemed like an extremity and critical situation. He says the situation is the same at Eau Claire.

AN INAUGURAL BALL SURE.

Chairman Hanna Says It Is Custom and Will Be Observed.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 4.—Concerning the report going the rounds to the effect that the inaugural ball may possibly be omitted at the coming inauguration of President-elect McKinley in March, Chairman M. A. Hanna, who has charge of the arrangements pertaining to such matters, said:

An American Woman Involved.

SPANIARDS DESERT.

CLOSE SYSTEM OF ESPIONAGE.

No Social Affairs Allowed in Havana. Letters Torn Open and People Searched. Insurgents Capture a Town, in a Way They Might Like Havana.

KEY WEST, Dec. 4.—News has been received here that the troops of the Spanish garrison at San José de Las Lajas, 20 miles southeast of Havana, has abandoned their post and joined the insurgents. Many of the citizens accompanied the troops and carried ammunition with them. The news caused great excitement at the palace and fresh troops were immediately sent to the post and order was restored. Before the troops arrived anarchy reigned, and when the troops reached the city many residents were shot down in the streets.

News from Santiago de Cuba reports that the insurgents captured an important Spanish convoy of ammunition and supplies between Buycito and Manzanillo with nearly 1,000,000 rounds of Mauser and Remington cartridges.

No more social or family gatherings will be held in Havana unless special orders shall be secured from the authorities. All of the home of leading Cuban families are watched as well as the movements of foreign correspondents and are reported to the police. The postoffice officials open letters indiscriminately and send them to owners without use. Outgoing passengers, when suspected, are searched aboard the ships and steamship officers are closely watched.

HAVANA, Dec. 4.—The insurgent attack on Guanabacoa, on the outskirts of this city on Tuesday last, was a much more serious affair than at first stated. According to insurgent accounts Guanabacoa was attacked simultaneously at several points, while another insurgent force fired upon the Spanish outposts at Bucaranas, on the coast.

The garrison of the fort, it is added, left that place to resist the attack on the town, but was ambushed between stone walls and farm fences by about 500 insurgents, and in spite of the gallant defense made, all the Spaniards were killed. The exact number of soldiers slain is not known. It is admitted that a number of insurgents were also killed, but here again the number is not stated.

On the other hand, the insurgents are said to have burned 74 houses in Guanabacoa instead of one house, as the official report of the affair stated.

The local authorities are doing everything possible to conceal the real facts in the case, but there is no doubt that they have received a bad scare and that the insurgents have demonstrated that it would not be a very difficult matter, in spite of the reports of the military commanders, to create just such another "scare," to say the least, in the city of Havana itself.

Private advices from Santiago de Cuba say that the province of Puerto Principe has been exceedingly quiet since the last engagement of General Castellanos with the combined insurgent forces of Gomez and Canito Garcia. The insurgent army is said to be divided. Garcia is reported to be retreating eastward, while Gomez is moving west to reinvade the province of Santa Clara.

The latest advices indicate that Gomez crossed the tracks between Jucaro and Moron when the military train there was dynamited recently.

Official dispatches, dated Nov. 28, say that the local Spanish Guerrillas of Remedios and Caibarien, mistaking each other for insurgents, have had a serious encounter, in which nine men were killed and 15 were wounded.

General Yncian, in Pinar del Rio, reports that he has arrived at Artemisa with 100 sick soldiers brought in carts from Cayajabos. The battalion of Asturias is said to have 450 men on the sick list in Pinar del Rio hospitals.

Artemisa advices announce the concentration of insurgents in the rear of the eastern part of the trocha.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The Cuban junta has received from Cuba confirmation of the report of the death in battle of Major General Sanchez, inspector general of the insurgent army at Las Damas, Santa Clara province, on Nov. 20.

DETECTIVES AFTER A FIEND.

He Is Suspected of Murdering People in Australia.

SYDNEY, Dec. 4.—Two persons who mysteriously disappeared are believed to have been decoyed into the bush, under the pretense of prospecting for gold, and it is feared they have been murdered and that others have met the same fate. One body has been unearthed at London.

Suspicion has fallen upon a man who is now on his way to San Francisco. Detectives are following him and he will be arrested on his arrival there.

THE RAINES LAW.

Brooklyn Police Commissioner Point Out Some Good Features.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—In the investigation of the Rains Law, Leonard R. Welles, commissioner of police of Brooklyn, said the good features of the law were:

"The exposure of saloons, abolition of free lunch, which had practically relieved Brooklyn of an army of tramps; raising the license thereby wiping out a number of saloons that were more or less troublesome to the authorities."

Five Killed in a Political Fight.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 4.—A fight between old man Harrison and two sons, and Morgan and two sons, has occurred in one of the mountain counties. As a result the elder Morgan is dead and both sons are dying. Both of the Harrison boys are also dead. It originated over politics.

BAD ITALIANS BARRED.

Stamp Reports Regarding Italy's Ob-servance of Our Immigration Laws.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Commissioner General Stamp of the immigration bureau has made his report to the secretary of the treasury on the result of his recent mission to Rome in the interest of the proper understanding and observance of our immigration laws. On his arrival in Rome the Italian ministry expressed to Mr. Stamp its earnest desire that persons who would not be permitted to land in the United States should be restrained from embarkation and that such regulations as the ministry had authority to enforce should be promulgated with a view to preventing further undesirable immigration and at the same time save respect who intended to migrate a fruitless voyage.

The result of Mr. Stamp's several conferences with the Italian authorities was the issuance by Minister Rudini of a proclamation giving in detail the provisions of our immigration laws and a comprehensive explanation of each. The minister requires each immigrant to provide himself, before his departure, with his own personal certificate, setting forth in detail his criminal record, if he has ever been under arrest, which must be given to the immigration officials at the United States port of entry. The proclamation also instructs all local immigration agents to refuse passports to persons not clearly entitled to land in the United States. Mr. Stamp regards his mission as highly successful and anticipates very satisfactory results from the proclamation by Minister Rudini.

A DENIAL FROM ROME.

The Pope Has No Intention of Punishing American Clergymen.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—For some time there has been periodically published dispatches pretending to come from Rome and from other points indicating proposed action on the part of the holy see in regard to archbishops, and especially touching the faculty of the Catholic university at Washington. All sorts of reprimands, removals and even degradations were promised and the names of the recipients of such favors were given. These reports have naturally annoyed those who hold the highest places in the Catholic hierarchy in America, and could not fail to create displeasure in the mind even of the pope himself. The effect on the pope is manifested in the following cablegram received from the papal secretary of state by the apostolic delegate, which needs no explanation or comment.

"Your excellency will authoritatively deny all such falsehoods, which are the product of reprehensible manoeuvrings."

OUR TRIUMPH!

'Though no spring chickens in a mercantile sense, we recognize the importance of, and practice modern aggressive and progressive business methods. The strictly one-price system has been introduced and accepted with most satisfactory results. Close buying and closer selling has proven the best business fertilizer; candid advertising of facts has strengthened the links which binds our trade, and influenced many recruits. With due regard for the intelligence and wants of East Liverpool buyers, we have prepared a which places us head and shoulders above home competition, and puts us on an equality with the greatest of America's commercial institutions.

Ours is not a gents' furnishing department, but a furnishing store, for few exclusive stores handle such complete lines. Silk Four-in-Hands, Tecks, De Joinville Bows, String Ties, many equaling the standard 50c wares, we will show from now until the holidays at 25c. Our 50c line is truly a record breaker, not only our own, but the world's record is surpassed. Many of the large eastern houses placed orders simultaneously with us for the same goods, but they will place them in their dollar cases. We can prove it, if you wish, by writing to some of the big stores for dollar ties, and show you the same here marked 50c.

Big stock and little prices throughout. All the latest fads.

We will mention no prices in clothing this week. We permit you to bring the list of any so-called competitor and expect the same or better here for less money. Unless you are fully convinced of the superiority of our clothing, and unless the saving of 25 to 33 per cent. is manifest, take your money elsewhere; and should you buy from us, and within a day or two thereafter see something else where that you consider cheaper we invite you to come in and get your money back. It will be returned to you freely.

Shirts for dress wear and Shirts for warmth. Over shirts and Under shirts Exclusive patterns in our fancy dress Shirts. Exclusive prices, too. Good qualities. Fancy bosom dress Shirts, well made, reinforced seams, fast color percales, the usual $1.25 kind, for 83c. Garnier's very best of percale bosom, white body dress shirts, which no other house in town keeps in stock for 98c. Our lines are not made alone with various size neck band and various lengths of skirts and bosoms, but with different length sleeves as well, from 29 to 35 inches. A dwarf or a giant, the stout or the lean, can be fitted from our extensive and incomparable stock of well made shirts. See them.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

There are at present 60 men employed at the bridge.

A number of the river potteries put in gas meters yesterday.

W. C. Wright has moved his family here from Steubenville.

The board of health will meet this evening in regular session.

The railroad crossing at the foot of Broadway is being repaired.

French Kerr is again able to be out, after an illness of several weeks.

Fred Cartwright, who is ill with typhoid fever, is slowly improving.

The Eastern Star will hold their annual banquet next Thursday evening.

Al McDonald today shipped 500 barrels of apples to Memphis, Tenn., on the Hudson.

The funeral of Mrs. Susan Bates took place this morning, and was largely attended.

Motorman George Richards is confined to his home at Ralston's crossing with fever.

Work on the foundation of the Ravine street bridge is progressing slowly. One side is almost finished.

The Dry Run Country club now has 23 members, and a first class tennis court is promised for next year.

The pump house is being beautified by several new chandeliers, which are being placed in position today.

The Western Union clocks in the city are today receiving a general cleaning, and the batteries are being recharged.

Alfred Cartwright has arrived home from Sistersville, where he went a week ago with a cargo of apples. He disposed of them.

All the repairs at the pumping station have been made with the exception of placing in position a heavy casting. It has not yet arrived.

Tramps are again becoming very numerous, and residents of Seventh street have been besieged by Wandering Willies for several days.

Councilman George W. Ashbaugh left this morning for Buffalo, in the interest of the West End pottery. He will be absent a week or 10 days.

A new piano was placed in the lecture room of the First M. E. church, yesterday afternoon, for the use of the Sunday school and Epworth league.

Doctor Gardner returned from Lisbon last night. He has been doing duty on the special jury impaneled for common pleas court Tuesday afternoon.

Mayor Gilbert returned home from Lisbon last evening after a stay of two days. He was a witness on the McKinnon-Schneider assault and battery case.

Capt. Will Hill is in Canton today attending the meeting of the officers of the Eighth Regiment. Arrangements are being made for the Washington trip.

The directors of the library will meet this evening to make arrangements for much needed finances. A quarterly report of the secretary will be submitted.

If special rates can be secured over the railroads, a party of hunters of the city will spend a week hunting in the Cheat mountains in Virginia during the holidays.

Should the workmen succeed in raising the Ollie Neville today, she will be taken to Parkersburg at once, and placed on the docks to receive a thorough overhauling.

The practice of the small boys looting around the entrance at the Grand, and asking for money, has been abolished through the presence of an officer each evening.

The scarcity of gas this week made a kiln at the Union a day late and almost all the clay hands were idle yesterday. The decorating kilns are now ready for coal.

A boy and a dog in hot pursuit of a rooster that had escaped from a Broadway grocer was a laughable incident yesterday afternoon. The bird was captured after a long chase.

One of the most pleasant socials in the history of the society was given by the Endeavorers of the First Presbyterian church last night. The attendance was large. Lunch was served.

The Sunday school classes of the First M. E. church are making strenuous efforts to outdo each other in collecting money to pay off the church debt, and as a result there is much friendly rivalry.

The report of L. P. Ohliger, internal revenue collector, shows that $78,929 was gathered in this district in November. It is a falling off of almost $5,000 when compared with the same month last year.

The electrical machinery placed in the mines at Salineville has not proved a complete success. The machinery is constantly getting out of order, and in need of repairs. It is said coal digging by this method may be abandoned.

Yesterday afternoon several small boys in passing a Washington street store upset a number of crocks a merchant had for display. Two or three of the crocks were broken, and the merchant chased the boys for some distance, but finally gave it up.

COLUMBIANA COUNTY,
COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

Order of Sale—Case No. 1632.

In pursuance of an order issued from the Court of Common Pleas within and for the County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, made at the October term thereof A. D. 1896, and to me directed, I will offer for sale at Public Auction, on the premises, on

at 2 o'clock p. m. of the said day the following described real estate, to-wit:

Situated in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, and known as and being near the north west corner of the south east quarter of section twenty-four (24), beginning at a post situated in the west side of the public road, at the south east corner of a tract of land conveyed by William Bensmore to J. H. Bensmore, running thence south eighty-two (82) feet and six (6) inches to a post; thence south eighty-seven (87) degrees and one half (1/2) degrees west one hundred and twenty-four (124) feet to a post; thence north eighty-two feet and six inches (82 1/2) to a post on the east side of a ten foot alley; thence north eighty-seven (87) degrees and one half (1/2) degrees east one hundred and twenty-four (124) feet to the place of beginning.

Said premises have been appraised at twelve hundred ($1200.00) dollars, and cannot sell for less than two-thirds of said appraised value.

WELLSVILLE.

A PLAIN DRUNK

Breaks the Monotony in the Court of Mayor Jones.

The monotony of idleness was broken in the court of Mayor Jones yesterday when one solitary victim was given his just and honest due. William Mattheus was picked up on Third street very drunk. He concluded he was guilty, and got $5 and costs. He had enough money to satisfy a portion of the claim, and was released on promise to settle in full next Saturday.

Pleasant Meetings.

The Christian Endeavorers of the Methodist Protestant church held their business meeting last night. An excellent musical and literary program was carried out, and a committee was appointed to look after the interests of the society. The attendance was large.

The Choral class had a meeting at the home of Walter Dewel, Ninth street. A large number attended, and music was the feature of the evening.

Making Repairs.

The Vulcan brick works shut down this week in order that necessary repairs might be made. Two large kilns will be built, and another pan added to the plant, increasing the capacity materially. The improvements consequent upon the election of Major McKinley are expected to make the business of producing brick a profitable industry.

It Gives Employment.

The McGregor saw mill, after an idleness of almost a year, has resumed operations, and gives employment to a number of men. The improvement in business warranted Mr. McGregor to make the move.

The News of Wellsville.

Mike Shingle was in Pittsburgh on business today.

Contractor Beach, of Irondale, was in town last evening.

The McSweeney building, once a billiard room, is again vacant, the occupants having moved to McQueen's run. After tramping many weary days in search of game, Louis Thompson has returned to town. His hunt was not a success.

Miss Mamie Kountz entertained a party of Wellsville and East Liverpool friends at her home on Main street last night.

Mrs. J. Goetz is the guest of her mother in Allegheny.

Miss Bowe, of Steubenville, is visiting friends in this place.

Mrs. George Meanough is the guest of friends in Irondale.

Mrs. Conland, of Tenth street, is very low with consumption, and it is feared she cannot long survive.

Arrangements are being made to light the Second Presbyterian church with electricity. It will be a much needed improvement.

Mrs. A. Fisher went to Cleveland yesterday.

J. M. Russell went to Pittsburgh this morning.

The Lorena stopped at the wharf last evening, and took a number of passengers to Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Emmet Chandler suffers from malarial fever, and is in a dangerous condition.

Extra Locals.

Read the locals on our extra page today, on each side of the handsome announcement of bargains by the Boston store. The wide-awake proprietor of this establishment is determined to rush matters, on account of change of quarters and business, and goods will certainly be sold, regardless of cost, and the public at large will derive the benefit. Read the advertisement on extra and then hasten to Fifth street.

Nothing Nicer.

In fact, nothing so nice as an elegant piece of jewelry for a holiday present. And the very nicest articles manufactured, exquisite in design and finish, can be had, at reasonable prices, at Wade's, the jeweler, in the Diamond. We will not enumerate the articles. They must be seen to be fully appreciated. Artistic novelties of every design and character. Wade will be pleased to wait upon you.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—E. M. Crosser is a Pittsburgh visitor today.

—W. A. Hill is a Pittsburgh business visitor today.

—Edwin M. Knowles returned home last night from a visit to Indiana.

—Charles Shawke, of Lisbon, is visiting friends in the city.

—Charles Larkins returned from Cleveland today after a business visit.

—W. F. Steele and Jack Harris are skating on Beaver creek this afternoon.

—Mrs. James H. Goodwin and daughter, Miss Alice, are Pittsburgh visitors today.

—F. S. Robbins, of Wattsville, O., is visiting his brother, R. T. Robbins, of this city.

—William J. Owen, wife and daughter, of East Palestine, are visiting friends in the city.

—Mr. and Mrs. Isaac W. Knowles returned last evening from a visit with friends in London.

—Mr. and Mrs. Socrates Dickey, Jr., of Beaver Falls, Pa., are spending a few days with friends in the city.

—Mrs. M. A. Parkinson, of Beaver Falls, has returned home after a visit at the residence of Doctor Norris.

—Reverend and Mrs. Smith returned to Baden, Pa., today after visiting at the home of Reverend Reinartz.

—Mrs. Laughlin and son Allen, who now reside in the country, near Rogers, are the guests of friends in the city.

—Mrs. Richard Thomas, of Seventh street, is home from Lisbon, after visiting her daughter, Mrs. George B. Harvey.

—Miss Sue Esterly, who teaches in the East End school, and has been ill for several days, went to Lisbon this morning for a short rest.

Cheap Prices.

The Pay Train, The Captain's Mate, and Money to Burn, will be produced at the New Grand on next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening, by De Coursey & Mack's comedy company. These plays have been seen here repeatedly, but never before at 10, 20 and 30 cents. The company is a strong one, and the scenery was built especially for this tour.

A Denial.

An irresponsible local sheet Wednesday evening published an item about the bread wagon of Jack Rowe running over a woman in the Diamond. Mr. Rowe called at this office last evening, and stated that his wagon was in the stable when the accident occurred.

Good Progress.

Preparations for the Brotherhood fair are progressing rapidly, and the committee will meet tomorrow evening to further arrangements.

Mr. Finley Is Better.

Commissioner Finley is out today, and is suffering no ill effects from his accident, beyond having a very sore head.

Their Own Light.

A number of pottery firms in the city are seriously considering the idea of making their own electric lights.

Electing Officers.

The Womans' Relief corps held a meeting this afternoon for the purpose of electing officers.

Will Meet.

The trustees of the water works this evening will hold their regular monthly meeting and pay all bills.

BULGER'S

The Fellow at the Front.

Of all the Druggists in a certain locality, some one of them must be in front. One of them gets the name for accuracy and safety. People learn, by experience and hearsay, that if they go to him there will be no substitution or "guess work" about the filling of their prescriptions. Extreme care, knowledge and absolutely Pure Drugs, is making this store popular with particular people. Everybody ought to be particular when they buy drugs and medicines.

COLUMBIANA COUNTY,

Order of Sale—Case No. 1632.

In pursuance of an order issued from the Court of Common Pleas within and for the County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, made at the October term thereof A. D. 1896, and to me directed, I will offer for sale at Public Auction, on the premises, on

at 2 o'clock p. m. of the said day the following described real estate, to-wit:
Situating in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, and known as and being near the north west corner of the south east quarter of section twenty-four (24), beginning at a post situated in the west side of the public road, at the south east corner of a tract of land conveyed by William Densmore to J. H. Densmore, running thence south eighty-two (82) feet and six (6) inches to a post; thence south eighty-seven and one half (87 1/2) degrees west one hundred and twenty-four (124) feet to a post; thence north eighty-two feet and six inches (82 1/2) to a post on the east side of a ten (10) foot alley; thence north eighty-seven and one-half (87 1/2) degrees east one hundred and twenty-four (124) feet to the place of beginning.
Said premises have been appraised at twelve hundred ($1200) dollars, and cannot sell for less than two-thirds of said appraised value.
Terms of Sale—Cash.

WELLSVILLE.

A PLAIN DRUNK

Breaks the Monotony in the Court of Mayor Jones.

The monotony of idleness was broken in the court of Mayor Jones yesterday when one solitary victim was given his just and honest due. William Materhouse was picked up on Third street very drunk. He concluded he was guilty, and got $5 and costs. He had enough money to satisfy a portion of the claim, and was released on promise to settle in full next Saturday.

Pleasant Meetings.

The Christian Endeavorers of the Methodist Protestant church held their business meeting last night. An excellent musical and literary program was carried out, and a committee was appointed to look after the interests of the society. The attendance was large.

The Choral class had a meeting at the home of Walter Dewel, Ninth street. A large number attended, and music was the feature of the evening.

Making Repairs.

The Vulcan brick works shut down this week in order that necessary repairs might be made. Two large kilns will be built, and another pan added to the plant, increasing the capacity materially. The improvements consequent upon the election of Major McKinley are expected to make the business of producing brick a profitable industry.

It Gives Employment.

The McGregor saw mill, after an idleness of almost a year, has resumed operations, and gives employment to a number of men. The improvement in business warranted Mr. McGregor to make the move.

The News of Wellsville.

Mike Shingle was in Pittsburg on business today.

Contractor Beach, of Irondale, was in town last evening.

The McSweeney building, once a billiard room, is again vacant, the occupants having moved to McQueen's run. After tramping many weary days in search of game, Louis Thompson has returned to town. His hunt was not a success.

Miss Mamie Kountz entertained a party of Wellsville and East Liverpool friends at her home on Main street last night.

Mrs. J. Goetz is the guest of her mother in Allegheny.

Miss Bowe, of Steubenville, is visiting friends in this place.

Mrs. George Meanough is the guest of friends in Irondale.

Mrs. Conland, of Tenth street, is very low with consumption, and it is feared she cannot long survive.

Arrangements are being made to light the Second Presbyterian church with electricity. It will be a much needed improvement.

Mrs. A. Fisher went to Cleveland yesterday.

J. M. Russell went to Pittsburg this morning.

The Lorena stopped at the wharf last evening, and took a number of passengers to Pittsburg.

Mrs. Emmet Chandler suffers from malarial fever, and is in a dangerous condition.

Extra Locals.

Read the locals on our extra page today, on each side of the handsome announcement of bargains by the Boston store. The wide-awake proprietor of this establishment is determined to rush matters, on account of change of quarters and business, and goods will certainly be sold, regardless of cost, and the public at large will derive the benefit. Read the advertisement on extra and then hasten to Fifth street.

Nothing Nicer.

In fact, nothing so nice as an elegant piece of jewelry for a holiday present. And the very nicest articles manufactured, exquisite in design and finish, can be had, at reasonable prices, at Wade's, the jeweler, in the Diamond. We will not enumerate the articles. They must be seen to be fully appreciated. Artistic novelties of every design and character. Wade will be pleased to wait upon you.

It Pays to ADVERTISE IN THE NEWS REVIEW.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—E. M. Crosser is a Pittsburg visitor today.

—W. A. Hill is a Pittsburg business visitor today.

—Edwin M. Knowles returned home last night from a visit to Indiana.

—Charles Shawke, of Lisbon, is visiting friends in the city.

—Charles Larkins returned from Cleveland today after a business visit.

—W. F. Steele and Jack Harris are skating on Beaver creek this afternoon.

—Mrs. James H. Goodwin and daughter, Miss Alice, are Pittsburg visitors today.

—F. S. Robbins, of Wattsville, O., is visiting his brother, R. T. Robbins, of this city.

—William J. Owen, wife and daughter, of East Palestine, are visiting friends in the city.

—Mr. and Mrs. Isaac W. Knowles returned last evening from a visit with friends in London.

—Mr. and Mrs. Socrates Dickey, Jr., of Beaver Falls, Pa., are spending a few days with friends in the city.

—Mrs. M. A. Parkinson, of Beaver Falls, has returned home after a visit at the residence of Doctor Norris.

—Reverend and Mrs. Smith returned to Baden, Pa., today after visiting at the home of Reverend Reinartz.

—Mrs. Laughlin and son Allen, who now reside in the country, near Rogers, are the guests of friends in the city.

—Mrs. Richard Thomas, of Seventh street, is home from Lisbon, after visiting her daughter, Mrs. George B. Harvey.

—Miss Sue Esterly, who teaches in the East End school, and has been ill for several days, went to Lisbon this morning for a short rest.

Cheap Prices.

The Pay Train, The Captain's Mate, and Money to Burn, will be produced at the New Grand on next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening, by De Coursey & Mack's comedy company. These plays have been seen here repeatedly, but never before at 10, 20 and 30 cents. The company is a strong one, and the scenery was built especially for this tour.
